MacKenzie Sanders of Weatherford poses after placing third at the North Texas Trampoline and Tumbling State Championships.

Impact Athletic Training Center's level five power tumbling team competed at the North Texas Trampoline & Tumbling State Championships April 8-10.

Landen Lee of Weatherford won all three events and is the 2016 state champion in trampoline, tumbling, and double mini.

MacKenzie Sanders of Weatherford placed third in trampoline and tumbling, and seventh in double mini.

Hannah Kemp of Weatherford placed fifth in trampoline and sixth in double mini.

Alyssa Fisher of Aledo placed fifth in trampoline and seventh in tumbling.

Karter Kelley of Weatherford placed fifth in tumbling.

All five athletes also qualified to advance to the U.S. Championships.

Power tumbling and trampoline, also called "TNT", is an acrobatic sporting discipline that combines gymnastics with trampolining. Competitors perform tumbling skills on a rod floor, a traditional trampoline, and a double mini trampoline.
